What we understood from you. Servly AG will take card payments online through ACB, using CyberSource. Fees: 75 USD per month plus 4% of every settlement, taken automatically at the end of each month. Your website requirements and the CyberSource developer guides have been passed to our developer.

About Servly AG. A marketplace app and website where local businesses list their services and customers find them. Customers use it free. Businesses pay Servly a monthly plan: Starter 50 XCD, Growth 100 XCD, Business 170 XCD, plus an optional 25 XCD bookings upgrade. Payments are taken on the website.

Questions

1. Can our CyberSource account charge in Eastern Caribbean dollars (XCD)?
   All our prices are in XCD.

2. Are monthly automatic charges included?
   Ask for "Recurring Billing" and "Token Management" (saved cards). Our merchants pay every month.

3. Which payment page should we use?
   Ask: "Unified Checkout" or "Secure Acceptance hosted checkout"? Either way, cards are typed on CyberSource's page, not ours.

4. Can CyberSource tell our system automatically when someone pays?
   Ask for "webhooks" to be switched on for our account, for payments and recurring billing.

5. Do you give us test (sandbox) logins, or should our developer sign up for one?
   We want to test with pretend cards before going live.

6. When does the 75 USD monthly fee start?
   At sign-up, at approval, or from our first payment? Our first merchants will be on free trials.

7. Is there a setup fee, a minimum contract, or a fee to leave?

8. What do refunds and disputed payments (chargebacks) cost?

9. The 75 USD fee: is it taken from an XCD account, and at what exchange rate?

10. How many days until payments reach our account?

11. Can you send the official Visa and Mastercard logos to use?

12. Who reviews our website, and how long does approval take?
    We plan to launch on 15 December 2026 or 7 January 2027.

13. Can we have the merchant agreement and the fee list in writing?
